

ZALANDO BRIEF

JANUARY 29, 2026

MY NEWSROOM FILTER

HOW I DECIDE WHAT ZALANDO SHOULD
POST TODAY

3 MAIN FILTERS

- Culture velocity: Is it peaking now or forecasted to peak this week?
- Fashion translation: Can we turn it into a wearable “fit formula” in 24-48h?
- Zalando voice: Can we be smart, playful, and aesthetic without forcing it?

ZALANDO DOESN'T JUST SHOW PRODUCTS.
IT SHOWS UP IN CULTURE WITH TASTE,
TIMING, AND PLATFORM.

10 RECENT OR UPCOMING CULTURAL MOMENTS

(1)

1. PARIS MEN'S FASHION WEEK (JAN 20-25)

Why now: Runway and street style clips dominate feeds in real time.

Zalando angle: "3 menswear silhouettes you'll see everywhere next" and unisex styling translation.

4. LOCK-IN / WINTER ARC SELF-IMPROVEMENT CONTENT WAVE

Why now: 2026 TikTok signals show "locked in" accountability culture gaining momentum.

Zalando angle: "Lock-in uniform" content: gym-to-street, cold-weather layers, routine-ready fits.

7. COLLECTIBLES / "LITTLE OBJECTS WITH PERSONALITY" SHOPPING BEHAVIOR

Why now: TikTok's 2025 shopping report highlights collectibles and nostalgia-driven purchasing as a major trend.

Zalando angle: Accessory-first content: charms, bags, hair, jewellery, "small add-ons that change the whole look."

2. COPENHAGEN FASHION WEEK (JAN 27-30)

Why now: it's happening right now, it's highly visual, and it naturally connects to Germany + Nordics without FORCING IT

Zalando angle: Fit Forecast: the tiny details that will travel next (Scarves, belts, charms, hair details, etc.)

5. 2016 VS 2026 / IS 2026 THE NEW 2016?

Why now: 2016 is being re-examined as a freer, playful cultural moment, driven by nostalgia, post-minimalism fatigue, and a desire for self-expression over restraint.

Zalando angle: remixing past eras to express identity today, we can position ourselves as the curator that helps translate nostalgic style codes into modern, wearable looks.

8. HYGIENE / MAINTENANCE RITUAL

Why now: TikTok's 2026 signal shows routine content turning into luxury-coded self-care rituals.

Zalando angle: Morning routine styling + beauty adjacency without being try-hard (robe, loungewear, 'ready-to-leave' fits)

3. COMMENT CULTURE AS CONTENT (PHOTO REACTS / COMMENT-STACKING)

Why now: TikTok's 2026 forecast calls out comments as a creative surface (a new visual language).

Zalando angle: Build posts designed for comment participation ("choose A/B/C", "rate the fit", "Berlin vs Copenhagen").

6. REAL PROCESS > POLISHED PERFECTION BTS

Why now: TikTok's 2026 trend signal says audiences want grounding, unfiltered stories and real process.

Zalando angle: BTS of styling, shoots, newsroom decision-making, creator try-ons, "what we almost posted."

9. DOPAMINE GLAM / BEAUTY SWINGING BACK TO FUN

Why now: beauty is swinging back toward colour, texture, and play as a form of emotional expression and visual escapism.

Zalando angle: We sit at the intersection of fashion and beauty. show how bold makeup, accessories, and outfits work together as one expressive look.

10. BERLINALE (FEB 2026, BERLIN) LOCAL CULTURE MOMENT

Why now: Major Berlin event that fuses entertainment + fashion + street style.

Zalando angle: "Berlinale in Berlin winter" styling series: practical, stylish, city-specific.

SOCIAL ACTIVATION

COPENHAGEN FASHION WEEK (JAN 27-30, 2026)

CPHFW Fit Forecast: the small details that will travel next (Scarves, belts, charms, hair details, etc.)

Zalando reacts to Copenhagen Fashion Week by decoding the small styling details showing up repeatedly in street style and turning them into wearable outfit upgrades. Instead of covering full looks, the focus is on micro-details like neck scarves, chunky belts, sunglasses, bag charms, and hair accessories that instantly change the vibe of an outfit.

The activation treats fashion week as a live signal source, translating what's happening on the streets of Copenhagen into everyday style inspiration. Content is fast, editorial, and participatory, designed to feel like it belongs in people's feeds rather than as branded coverage. Culture first, product second.

INSTAGRAM

(3)

Instagram supports saveable, editorial storytelling. Carousels and Reels allow Zalando to package micro-trends into clear, aesthetic outfit formulas that people return to when getting dressed.

FORMATS

Carousel: "CPHFW Fit Forecast: The Details That Matter"

1. Cover — "Small things. Big fit energy."
2. Upgrade 01: hair jewellery
3. Upgrade 02: colourful gloves
4. Upgrade 03: colourful scarves
5. Upgrade 04: nail accessories
6. Upgrade 05: silk scarves
7. Upgrade 06: crochet hats/accessories
8. Upgrade 07: bag charms
9. Upgrade 08: tooth gems that match the outfit
10. Upgrade 09: oversized sunglasses
11. "Save this. Your future self will thank you."

Reel: "1 outfit, 3 upgrades"

Quick transitions, tight framing, loopable edit, trending song
Built for saves and replays rather than reach-only performance.

*Reel format is designed as a repeatable series. Beyond CPHFW, it can run weekly as an "outfit upgrade" moment and be repurposed into a saveable carousel post.

TIKTOK

(4)

TikTok is where fashion week moments are processed in real time through quick edits, commentary, and participation. It's ideal for trend translation, before-and-after transformations, and comment-driven formats where users actively engage with styling ideas.

FORMATS

1. "This outfit is fine. These 3 details make it good."

Format: base outfit → add scarf → add belt → add charm

Tone: confident, slightly cheeky

CTA: "Which one are you stealing?"

2. "What Copenhagen is wearing right now" (trend decoder)

Format: fast cuts of CPHFW street style screenshots with text overlays highlighting repeated details

CTA: "Save this for winter dressing"

3. "Your outfit's a bit meh. We can fix that"

Format: creator or Zalando editor/stylists discusses 2026 trends and how to upgrade your wardrobe. Replies to comments with one accessory fix

CTA: comments as the engine

*The third format can run weekly beyond CPHFW
